Early Childhood Health Services

Early Childhood Health Centre (ECHC) services are free and are offered on a one-to-one basis or through group sessions, telephone consultation/counselling and home visiting. ECHC provide support and information on parenting issues for 0-5 years through individual clinic appointments, group programmes and information sessions.

- Support and information on any parenting issues for children up to 5 years of age.
- Group programs: A range of group programs and information sessions are conducted throughout the service. For example: support groups for new parents, toddler issues, age specific information and treatment groups for parents experiencing Post Natal Depression.
- Home visiting
- Telephone consultations
- Information and referral to other services.

Using the personal health record (PHR), or 'Blue Book' parents are encouraged to attend their local ECHC or GP for regular health checks following birth, 1-4 weeks, 6-8 weeks, 6 months, 12 months, 18 months, 2 years, 3 years and 4 years. Problems identified but not able to be resolved at this level can be referred to the next level of service, the Family Care Centres.

Immunisation

The NSW Parliament passed a Bill to amend the Public Health Act 2010 to strengthen vaccination enrolment requirements in child care (also known as early childhood education and care). From 1 January 2018:

- children who are unvaccinated due to their parent's conscientious objection can no longer be enrolled in child care
- it is an offence (with a penalty of 50 penalty units) for a principal to fail to comply with the child care vaccination enrolment requirements
- it is an offence (with a penalty of 50 penalty units) for a person to forge or falsify a vaccination certificate.

The NSW Immunisation Schedule sets out the age-appropriate vaccines for children and the AIR Immunisation History Statement will indicate if the child is up to date with their vaccinations.
